

CORONAVIRUS SERVICE UPDATE - APRIL 16, 2021

Now that a few weeks have passed since our last update, we are ready to introduce some additional changes. Most changes will take effect on Monday, April 26. Highlights are outlined below but please review the updated Status of Campus Amenities for full details.

**Maximum capacity of shared spaces were not reviewed this time but will be considered in future updates.*

Apartment Building Access

The three apartment buildings will no longer be locked during the day. The locking schedules for each building will be as they were prior to the start of the pandemic restrictions.

Non-residents (including caregivers) are still expected to screen prior to visiting. The Panorama Auditorium Screening Station will remain open for this purpose. There will no longer be a screening station in the Quinault.

Apartment Building Mail Delivery

Mail, package, and newspaper delivery will return to normal.

Campus Street Gates

The street gates that have been closed due to pandemic restrictions will return to their regular opening schedules.

Additional Spaces Available

The Tacoma and Seattle conference rooms, as well as the Quinault Chapel, will now be available for resident use. Please refer to the Status of Campus Amenities for scheduling details.

The Panorama Library will open for in-person book check-out and return starting May 3. The Library will continue to offer home delivery and return.

Caregivers in Outdoor Common Spaces

Caregivers may now accompany a resident to outdoor shared spaces. Please note guests who are not caregivers are still not permitted to be in any common space at this time.
