

Learning Your Loved One's New Language: Mastering Dementia Fluency

Presented by Jennifer L. FitzPatrick, MSW, LCSW-C, CSP and Stephanie Goldstein BSW, LBSW, associate speaker & CE compliance director.

Jennifer L. FitzPatrick, MSW, LCSW-C, CSP (Certified Speaking Professional) has over 20 years' experience in healthcare and is the Founder of Jenerations Health Education, Inc. Jennifer has taught gerontology at the college level for nearly 20 years and is currently an adjunct faculty member at Johns Hopkins University's Odyssey Certificate on Aging Program. She is also the author of Cruising Through Caregiving: Reducing The Stress of Caring For Your Loved One. In addition, Jennifer is frequently featured in national media including ABC, CBS, Univision, Sirius XM, Forbes, U.S. News & World Report, The Huffington Post, The Washington Post and many others.

Persons with dementia lose the ability to communicate like the rest of us. If you want to better understand your loved one, you must learn to become dementia fluent. This program will increase your understanding of what your loved one is trying to tell you. It will also help you adjust your communication strategies so your loved one better understands you.
